JAPS' EXPRESS CONCERN OVER NEXT OPERATION FOLLOWING MOPPING UP OF OKINAWA; FOE FEARS DIRECT INVASION

Intensified Raids As A Preparation For Daring Thrust
LAYING EN MASSE
Enemy Troops, Dying By Hundreds, Are Still Resisting
By Gerard R. Himmelsbach (U. N. S. Pacific Cable Editor)
Announcement that Okinawa was secured by the U. S. Tenth Army is expected at any moment today and the Japs already were expressing concern over the next American operation.
The enemy's Domei agency said it "informed quarters" in Tokyo that the U. S. has already begun preparations for the next stroke in the Pacific war, a move which Nippon believes "will involve direct invasion of the Japanese mainland."
Recently intensified Superfortress raids against Kyushu's airbases, and communications and industrial facilities on that and other islands of the Japanese homeland were seen as preparatory moves for such a daring U. S. thrust.
Meantime, 325 miles southwest of Okinawa, Tenth Army Marines and highboys were engaged in the heaviest mass slaying of Japs in the entire Ryukyu campaign. With more than 89,000 Japs already mopped up in the battle which now is in its 82nd day, the Yanks had approximately 2,000 more Nips left in three small pockets at the southern end of Okinawa.
The enemy troops, dying by hundreds, were badly battered but still resisting. However, increased

News in Brief - - -

WASHINGTON, June 21—President Truman called on Congress yesterday to pass a bill changing the Presidential Succession Act of 1886 so as to make the House Speaker first in line for the Presidency in case the removal, death, resignation or inability to act of the President and Vice-President.
His message dealt with a situation which has been a concern to many since the Vice Presidency became vacant and because the succession, under the 1886 statute, follows the line of the Cabinet members from the Secretary of State down, none of whom are elected officers.

Maritime School Wants A New Ship

PHILADELPHIA, June 21—Joint efforts of the Navigation Commission for the Delaware River and its navigable tributaries and the Philadelphia Department of Wharves, Docks and Ferries through Director Edwin R. Cox may secure a Victory of Liberty ship for use as a schoolship by the Pennsylvania Maritime Academy.
At a meeting of the Navigation Commission in the Bourse Building, a resolution was adopted petitioning the United States Maritime Commission to assign to the Maritime Academy "a larger vessel for proper training of our 200 cadets."
In reply to a letter which Director Cox sent him last week, Senator Francis J. Meyers said he would contact Admiral Emory S. Land, chairman of the U. S. Maritime Commission, in an effort to secure a Liberty or Victory ship for the Maritime Academy.
The present schoolship is the former Coast Guard Cutter "Seneca" renamed the "Keystone State." It was furnished by the Federal Government through the U. S. Maritime Commission.
Director Cox said "the present schoolship is inadequate to meet the needs of the academy. It can accommodate only 100 cadets in crowded quarters while the classrooms are too small to serve efficiently. The present schoolship was built for distinctly governmental functions, while for the purpose of the academy a cargo vessel should be provided as the cadets are being trained to become officers in our Merchant Marine."

Archeological Trip Is Well Recounted

Henry Pearson, Langhorne, Speaks to Bucks Co. Science Ass'n
NEWTOWN SESSION
NEWTOWN, June 21—The meeting of Bucks County Natural Science Association on Saturday was featured by several informal talks.
The session was in charge of the vice president, Stevenson W. Fletcher, Jr., in the absence of the president, Edward A. Briggs, who was confined to his home on account of illness.
Mrs. Mary W. Peters gave a short account of the May meeting of the Delaware Valley Naturalists' Union held at the Zoological Gardens, Philadelphia, where the director, Roger Conant, gave an informative talk on snakes and exhibited several. Of the sixty persons in attendance at that meeting, said Mrs. Peters, six were from Bucks county.
Following this report, George W. Harris, Newtown township, formerly a commercial rose grower, gave a talk on the various types of tea roses, perpetual bloomers and climbers.
Mr. Fletcher gave a talk on the ornamental climbing vines and their place in good landscaping. Two he mentioned in particular were the Eumomus Vegetus, which resembles the bittersweet, but which is much more attractive than bittersweet, and the Akebia.
Henry Pearson, Langhorne, a graduate of Yale University, from which he received two degrees, and who now is an employee of Rohm & Haas, Bristol, was another speaker. Mr. Pearson in 1931 accompanied an archeological unit from Yale to Syria, where members of the unit devoted several years to excavation work.
In an interesting manner Mr. Pearson described how members of the unit dug down in an attempt to restore cities that had been buried 2000 or 3000 years.
The next meeting of the association will be held on the grounds of the Friends' meeting house, here, on Saturday, July 21.

Much Too Crude

Washington, June 21. THERE ARE A LOT of things about Mr. Harold Ickes, Secretary of the Interior, which do not endear him to the discriminating and tend to restrict admiration even among those who are not. Certainly, it would be inaccurate to describe him as an engaging personality. He would not thus describe himself — appears rather to take pride in being the reverse.
—O—
WHOLLY aside from this, there may be sound reasons for not continuing him in his present position. As a matter of fact, President Truman does not need any reason at all for ridding himself of Mr. Ickes. It is clearly the new President's right to have in his official family men of his own choosing, congenial to him personally as well as politically. He has Mr. Ickes' resignation on his desk and could not be criticized for accepting it at any time.
THESE being the facts, it seems a pity that sources supposedly close to Mr. Truman should advance, in publications supposedly friendly to him, and over the radio, reasons which, if true, reflect discredit not upon Mr. Ickes but upon Mr. Truman. For example, one article, "on good authority," asserts that though Mr. Ickes has the confidence of the President, eventually he will be replaced by someone recommended by Democratic Chairman Robert Hannegan, because "the total contribution of his department's employees in the last campaign was only $800," which, it is said, is regarded by Mr. Truman's political managers as "excessive nonpartisanship."

IT IS further declared that failure "to contribute adequately" was one cause for the ousting of Attorney General Biddle. Also, it is asserted that Mr. Morgenthau's present "security" in the Cabinet is due to his championship of Mr. Hannegan when the latter was under fire for political operations in St. Louis, and that Mr. Hannegan's choice for Mr. Ickes' post is Mr. Pauley, Democratic Committee Treasurer, whom he recently had made chief of our Reparations Commission. When one reads statements such as these in a reputable magazine of large national circulation it is natural to assume that

UP-TO-PRESS-TIME WAR BULLETINS

(By International News Service)

NIMITZ SAYS BATTLE OF OKINAWA IS WON

Guam—Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced today that the battle of Okinawa, bloodiest of the entire Pacific war, was won today when all organized resistance on that strategic island ended.
Remnants of the enemy garrison—which in the first 80 days of the battle lost some 89,000 troops—were pocketed in two small sectors of the island, and Nimitz said they were being "mopped up."
American casualties soared above the 35,000 mark in the 82-day campaign which gave the United States a base for air, sea and land operations only 972 miles from Tokyo itself.
Official announcement that only two pockets remained to be eliminated indicated that another isolated group of Japs was completely wiped out within the last few hours. In his midnight communique Nimitz said that enemy remnants had been split three ways.
Latest tabulations show that the U. S. Pacific Fleet, which in this operation was assisted for the first time by British naval units, had 31 ships sunk and more than 54 damaged. These losses were suffered as carriers and bombardment craft stood by to protect the armada of transports and landing craft.
The victory over the Japanese land force, estimated at about 90,000 when the landings were made Easter morning, gave America five ready-made airfields, plus still more strips on tiny Ie Shima Island. The Yanks also gained the potential naval anchorage at Nakagusuku Bay which the Nipponese fleet employed before being driven off.

Publicity Chairman in Charge of Such For State Records

ONE NEW AFFILIATE

CHALFONT, June 21—A history of Bucks County Chapter, Daughters of American Revolution, is to be prepared for state records. Mrs. William Herridge, chairman of the publicity committee, was named to prepare such.
The annual meeting of Bucks Co. Chapter was held at the home of the regent, Mrs. Edwin H. Taylor.
Prior to the business meeting, which included annual reports of the secretary, Mrs. William V. Loughery, Newtown; the treasurer, Mrs. W. Carlisle Hobensack, Doylestown; and the publicity chairman, Mrs. Herridge, a covered dish luncheon was served.
Mrs. Frank Acton reported boxes containing clothes and small articles have been sent to the Massie School. The resolutions committee was instructed to draw up resolutions on the death of Mrs. Horace A. Ehrig, Newtown, for many years a member of the chapter.
Mrs. Margaret Yorke, Bristol, R. D., was appointed to serve on the program committee, and Mrs. Herman Barnsley, Newtown, reported one new member, and announced another had transferred from this chapter.
Guests at the meeting were from Chicago, Georgia and nearby towns.

GOVERNOR MARTIN PAYS BRIEF VISIT IN BRISTOL TODAY

Governor Edward Martin paid a brief visit in Bristol today while en route to Pennsylvania.
The Governor was accompanied by a party of officials and friends, and stopped en route from Philadelphia at several points of historic interest. His schedule calls for visits, in addition to Pennsylvania, at the estate of Charles J. Biddle, Andalusia, which he reached just before 11 o'clock; the famous social and fishing club "State in Schuylkill," Edgington; the new shore base of the Penna. Maritime Academy near Morrisville, and the Keene home here.
Governor Martin and party arrived at the Farmers National Bank of Bucks County at 11.15, and inspected the attractive structure with its Greek colonnades. Thomas Scott, cashier of the bank, was presented to the chief executive of the Commonwealth by former U. S. Senator Joseph R. Grundy.
An escort of Penna. State Police officers was provided for the cortege; and special officers, together with Bristol police, restricted traffic on the south side of Radcliffe street between Radcliffe and Mulberry streets.

ROHM & HAAS CO. ACQUITTED IN SUIT

Feel That the Verdict is A Complete Vindication of Company's Position

WAS ANTI-TRUST SUIT

PHILADELPHIA, June 21—A spokesman for the Rohm & Haas Company today commented on the acquittal verdict in the Government's Anti-Trust suit against Rohm and Haas Company, Philadelphia chemicals manufacturers.
Dr. D. S. Frederick, vice-president of the company, said, "the verdict, we feel, is a complete vindication of our position. It has been our contention right along that the nation benefited from our having brought to this country German inventions and discoveries in fields of critical military importance. The trial afforded an opportunity for the facts supporting this contention to be made public, and we are naturally gratified by the outcome."
"The verdict, as we see it, recognizes our contention that the agreements of which the Department of Justice complained were simply licenses under United States patents, owned by Aliens, which gave Rohm and Haas the right to manufacture in this country under such patents, materials vital to America's war effort."
"Outstanding among these materials, of course, is Plexiglas, the acrylic plastic used for gun turrets and other transparent enclosures in every type of Army and Navy plane. Other materials which contributed to ourselves and our associated companies having eleven times received the Army-Navy "E" award for war production, include ingredients for synthetic rubber and chemicals to control the flow under extreme temperature changes of lubricants used by ships of air and of the sea."
"The prosecution contended that we had been guilty of price discrimination as between commercial users of our industrial molding powders and manufacturers who used our acrylic plastic to make dentures. This contention was not only inaccurate as to prices charged but also failed to take into account, differences between specially formulated dental materials supplied in units sufficient to make one denture and crude industrial molding powders supplied in 200 pound drums. The jury's verdict clears us of this charge."

TYPICALLY ROOSEVELTIAN

Revelation by Westbrook Pegler that Elliott Roosevelt, now a brigadier general, in 1939 traded upon the position of his father, the late President Roosevelt, to obtain a loan of $200,000 from John Hartford and then compromised the obligation for $4,000 comes as no shock to that portion of the citizenry that has never been gullible where the Roosevelts were concerned.

It is exactly what the country should have expected as part of the cynical view-point of the whole Roosevelt regime toward private gain from public office holding.

Young Roosevelt saw a chance to barter some official good will for the money of one of the country's wealthy men. He got his father, the President, on the telephone and had him speak melodiously into the ear of the prospective lender, assuring him there would be no hard feelings if the son got the $200,000.

It was all on the same principle that the Hyde Park estate was decided to the government in such a way as to relieve the Roosevelt estate of large tax payments. It was on the same principle that Mrs. Roosevelt has sold to the newspapers and magazines millions of words of stuff for publication that couldn't pass muster from anybody but the President's wife in any editorial office in the land.

It was on the same principle that hundreds of other New Dealers—like Harry Hopkins, for example—have used their official connection with the government to pry loose fat checks for writings that had no merit except by reason of their access to information and facts the public should have had given it through regular news channels.

Pegler said that Hartford, when he found his collateral was no good, took $4,000 from Jesse Jones on behalf of the Roosevelt family and took credit on his income tax payment in 1942 for the $196,000 loss.

One hesitates to believe that the Treasury will allow a tax exemption for a bad debt unless suit has been brought against the borrower for the amount or unless the taxpayer can bring proof of an investigation which shows such a suit would not yield anything.

It would be of some interest to have the further information as to whether, when the Treasury gave Hartford credit for the Roosevelt debt on his income tax payment, it required that suit be brought for recovery against the borrower. It would be enlightening to know whether the Treasury has a set of rules for settlement of Roosevelt debts different from those applied to ordinary citizens.

This question can justifiably be raised because there was a different rule applied to the Roosevelt dog to give him a priority on an Army transport plane. There was a different rule applied to hurry up the promotion of the brigadier. And the arrangement of the loan under discussion and its compromise certainly could not be considered usual practice.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

their source. If not Mr. Hannegan himself, is some closely affiliated with him. If this is not true, one would expect immediate repentment and denial from Mr. Hannegan. In more than a week there has been neither. Perhaps he has not noticed them, or thinks best not to take notice.

AT ANY rate, few will dispute that the unchecked promulgation of political ideas such as these is a direct disservice to Mr. Truman. Eventually, if permitted to continue, this sort of thing will create a very unpleasant smell, indeed, around the White House. For one thing, it places Administration politics on the lowest possible plane; for another, it elevates Mr. Hannegan to a plane of influence far higher than the one to which he is entitled. Mr. Truman, it is conceded, has made a very good start commendation of him is general and nonpartisan. Republican as well as Democratic leaders have been invited and have gone to see him, offering co-operation and support.

NEARLY everything he has done has been well done. It would be too bad if the fine impression he is making upon the country should be spoiled by the untimely insistence of not very smart Missouri politicians upon thrusting themselves, their unsavory political objectives and crude ideas too far to the front. Yet, exactly that could easily be done. A very sharp contrast exists between Mr. Truman's broad and tolerant attitude which leads him to ask advice from such Republicans as Mr. Hoover, Mr. Dewey and Mr. Landon, and that of Mr. Hannegan, who, in a speech a short time ago, urged that "we should work at all times to replace Republicans with Democratic Cabinet members, Democrats," and to whom is attributed power to throw out cause their campaign contributions were not satisfactory.

THERE is every reason to believe that the statements above quoted do not reflect Mr. Truman's views. He did not remove Mr. Biddle for the reason suggested. He would not remove Mr. Ickes because his department employees contributed only $800. He is not retaining Mr.

Morgenthau because he befriended Mr. Hannegan and Mr. Hannegan is not making Mr. Truman's more important appointments. All these suggestions do Mr. Truman injustice, which is all the more reason they should be rejected. While there are reasons the chairman of the National Committee should not also be Postmaster General, in naming Mr. Hannegan to that office Mr. Truman simply followed precedent and is not subject to criticism. But if the chairman is to be in the Cabinet, he ought to behave in a civilized manner. If the statements here quoted are without foundation, Mr. Hannegan should deny them. If they are well founded, Mr. Hannegan ought to be restrained.

IT'S NEWS!

self-cleaning
HOUSE

stays white!

Painting is essential today

These days, "make it last" is as important as "make it beautiful." That's why, when you paint, it's a good idea to get the best paint you can buy. Du Pont House Paint, for instance. Du Pont House Paint forms a beautiful, durable film—and guards the surface against rot, rust, decay.

Starts white—stays white

Moreover, Du Pont House Paint contains the whitest pigment known. Titanium dioxide—whiter than snow. So your house will start whitest-of-white, and stay that way. That's because...

It's self-cleaning

All paints collect dirt on exposure. But, with Du Pont House Paint, "self-cleaning" starts after a few months of normal weather conditions. A fine white powder forms on the surface. Heavy rains wash this away, carrying the dirt with it—leaving the newly-exposed surface clean and white again! (Unusual climatic or dirt-collecting conditions in extremely sooty industrial communities may, of course, delay this process.) Because this "self-cleaning" is gradual, the wearing qualities of the paint film are not abnormally affected.

Despite this remarkable quality of Du Pont House Paint, it costs no more than other good paints.

DU PONT HOUSE PAINT $3.35
in 5-gallon lots GAL.

► We will be glad to recommend a reliable painter. He knows how to do the job right, how much or how little paint to use. His skill means savings for you—and paint conservation for America.

MAKE A REPORT ON WAR ACTIVITIES

"to Nation" Present President and to Congress

RS WIDE FIELD

As made their "Report to Nation" recently, presenting a resume of the Order's active war activities to President Truman, to the Secretary of War and the Navy and to Congress.

Activities reviewed in the report include a total expenditure of $100,000, according to the Elks' mission, which conducts the city's war programs.

Some of the many activities mentioned in the Report include the establishment of 400 schools for training in desiring to take aviation courses; the recruitment of the Naval Air Corps; the recruitment of the Army Air Corps; the recruitment of the Army Engineers and the Navy; the evacuation of children from war zones; the collection of funds for the Merchant Marine; the recruitment of nurses for Hospitals; and the establishment of Elks' Centers for meals, relaxation, and accommodations for those in need of services.

Report tells how The Elks' mission in cooperation with subordinate lodges have been letter writing to members in the services, and have sent gift boxes and supplies of cigarettes and tobacco overseas.

Elks are providing entertainment to more than 150,000 convalescent veterans in hospitals throughout the nation, the report points out. Yet another activity has been the aid given to internees recently released from Jap camps in the Philippines.

Jacob C. Schmidt, Sr., as burgess, signed a report summarizing the war activities of the Bristol Lodge of Elks as follows:

The Lodge has purchased War Bonds to the amount of $10,000.

The Home is open at all times for the use of Service Men and in the past year, the sum of $350 was set aside to be used for their entertainment.

Each year the Lodge expends $450 for gifts of money to their members in the Armed Forces.

Among the many contributions made to the various War Drives was a donation of $250 to the Red Cross and a donation of $50 to the Bucks County War Fund.

The Lodge has also extended the use of its Home to all War Agencies and Auxiliaries. It has co-operated to the fullest extent in every community project and, in my opinion, has certainly done its part during this War.

EASTON—(INS)—Lt. Gen. A. M. Patch, commander of the Seventh Army in Europe, was not too busy to write a letter of condolence to Mrs. Annie L. Kelly whose husband was killed in Germany.

"WHERE QUALITY COUNTS"

JAR RINGS FOR '45 ARE IMPROVED IN SEALING QUALITY

By Mary Jacoby Fleetham
(Home Economics Representative)

Jar rings for home canning this year, though still made of synthetic and reclaimed rubber, will have better sealing quality generally and less tendency to impart off-flavors to food. This encouraging report comes as the result made of cooperative tests of 1945 jar rings. Findings of the tests in brief were:

1. New jar rings are definitely superior to 1943 rings, and an improvement on those on the market last year. However, home canners are advised to continue last year's recommended practice of boiling rings 10 minutes in one quart of water containing one tablespoon of soda for each dozen rings and then rinsing in boiling water.
2. Black, brown and red rings proved equally satisfactory. Color has no practical bearing on quality.
3. All rings had satisfactory sealing quality.
4. All jar rings in their cartons have a characteristic odor, but this does not necessarily give a flavor to the foods canned. Therefore, smelling new rings is not a reliable test of whether or not they will impart off-flavors to foods.

CHESTER—(INS)—A Delaware County jury placed the costs of a trial on a policeman after acquitting the defendants he had arrested during a near riot.

Faith Clarke's SHOPPING TIPS FOR BUDGETEERS

TWICE AS MANY good looking summer pillows can be bought for the money usually spent buying winter numbers. The joke on the manufacturers is that carefully selected summer beauties can be used the year 'round. This is why I, personally, wait for the summer display in the Snellenburg Upholstery Dept. This year, despite "duration" limitations, the summer pillows seem more attractive and more reasonably priced than ever. So, get a gang of them! Each Snellenburg one is stuffed not only with springy new cotton but soft comfort. Plenty of pillows like these help to make a home out of a house or the tiniest apartment. Cretonne, chintz, and gaily striped covers. Bound or fringed edges. Four good groups, priced at $1.95, $2.49, $2.95, and $3.95. The last two include some grand three-ways. (4th fl.)

DRINKING FOUNTAINS! Portable! Army type. Reconditioned, so that they sell for only $8.95 instead of practically twice the price. Grand for farm-ers in the fields, porches of houses of large families, picnics, small schools, fishermen, truck drivers, tennis courts, baseball lots, and the like. There's a built-in air-pump in each, so that a pressure of the thumb starts the upward stream, and no cups are needed! Insulation keeps the water cold and pure indefinitely. Capacity 4 gallons. Possibly 28 ins. high and 9 ins. or so wide, the practical "tank" is of metal and is cylindrical in shape. Rest it upon some shelf or object to make it just the right height. What an opportunity this! Snellenburgs. Housefurnishings Dept. (3rd fl.)

US AND HEDY in our "aaron" bathing suite! They're just about the cutest trick of the bathing or sunning season. The Snellenburg Sport-ing Goods Dept. has a particularly alluring aaron number, a fruit and flower cotton print upon rose, green, or blue, in sizes 32 to 38. The tiny ruffled sarong-excuse-for-a-skirt covers practical white cotton jersey briefs. The separate bra is struck halter-wise about the neck. Sweet! Exactly $5. (3rd fl.)

"NEVERBREAK" luggage is built for hard week-end vacation, or honeymoon tripping. The Snellenburg luggage Dept. has managed to get a fairly generous supply. Extremely good looking. The "buyer" of the department had to assure me three times that "Neverbreak" cases and bags are really fashioned of superior long-wearing fabricoid and not of high-grade leather! I couldn't believe it! All pieces are rich dark blue, bound and handled with natural-color top-grain cowhide. A 21 in. week-end case for women costs only $12.75 plus 20% tax; a 26 in. pullman case for women costs $16.75 plus 20% tax; a 24 in. men's two-suit case costs $20.95 plus 20% tax. Don't risk investing in luggage until you've seen these! (1st fl.)

SUMMER FURNITURE for the outdoors or for porches is to be had in several very reasonably priced styles in the Snellenburg Housefurnishings Dept. The particularly graceful cypress chairs and settees are worth seeing. The chairs are but $3.95 and the settees $5.95. Separate seats, priced at $3.50, can be used with the chairs to make chaise longue effects. (3rd fl.)

WISP MAGIC! Lacquer pads, a generous jar for the home, a filled "compact" for the purse. Just the thing to keep those summer hair wisps sheened into place. The whole combination for $1, plus 20% tax. Cleverest "beauty" gadget of the year! Snellenburgs. Toiletries Dept. (1st fl.)

P.S. Shop at this friendly store—Market from 11th to 12th, thru to 1125-29 Chestnut St., Phila. Or order by mail. Or 'phone free (5c, 10c and 15c out-of-town calls only). Clippings appreciated. Penna. number, ENTERprise 10160; New Jersey, WX-1150. Cheerio! Faithfully, FAITH.

Without Painful Backache
Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

KNOW YOUR STATE

Among all the war memorials which will be projected in coming years, none is more appropriate nor enduring than the planting of trees. Elms, oaks, and walnuts planted by Washington and Lafayette have for much more than a century flourished and grown tall and provided shade and shelter for succeeding generations. They have provided us with a living contract with great heroes of the past.

Pennsylvania, once an almost unbroken area of forests, has become tree conscious again as we realize how much of the protection of our streams depends on our forests and how important to our future prosperity and wealth the restoration of the State's timber resources is certain to become.

One of the most important means for the study and encouragement of the planting of trees has been the many arboreta established as memorials, or for scientific study, at various localities in our State. The first important garden of planted trees in America was that established by John Bartram, America's first great botanist, along the banks of the Schuylkill in what is now southwest Philadelphia. Here were planted the only specimens ever discovered of the famous Franklin tree and of many other rare American plants first brought to the notice of the world by this pioneer Pennsylvania tree lover.

This tradition has been well upheld. The Morris Arboretum in Philadelphia contains 168 acres of rare trees, flowers and shrubs. The Hemlock Arboretum maintained by Charles F. Jenkins in Germantown is devoted to the growing of all the known species of Pennsylvania's State tree, At Bowman's Hill, near Washington Crossing, a section of the State Park known as "Penn's Woods" is being maintained as a memorial to the founder of the Commonwealth. At Valley Forge there is also being developed, in addition to the famous dogwoods, a collection of native American trees, which will add beauty and interest to this historic camping ground. A section of Fairmount Park in Philadelphia, where General Lafayette planted a walnut tree in commemoration of his last visit to America, has been planted with hundreds of interesting specimens of forest growth.

At many other spots throughout the State, collections of trees have been planted by communities or individuals, and at Mt. Alto in Franklin County the State Department of Forests and Waters maintains an arboretum, containing 1500 marked trees and wooded shrubs from all parts of North America.

As memorials of the historic deeds of our time, such plantings may well outlive the changing fashions in statues of bronze and stone.

Make Cookies With Choice Cocoa

If your family is due for a treat, why don't you try some of these chocolate cookie recipes? There is a cocoa now on the market—a "Dutch Process" cocoa—that is the pride of pre-war Holland, and it is perfect in cakes and cookies such as these. "Dutch Processing" makes a richer, fuller-flavored cocoa ideally suited for any kind of baking. Its spicy sweetness saves sugar; its double-chocolate strength gives baked goods extra savor.

STRAWBERRIES LOSE LITTLE OF VITAMIN C WHEN THEY STAND

By Mary Jacoby Fleetham
(Home Economics Representative)

Besides their color and flavor, strawberries whether scarce or plentiful, have another virtue to recommend them to the family meal planner—richness in vitamin C.

One generous serving of fresh ripe berries is enough to furnish the day's requirement for this vitamin, according to studies made at the Montana state experiment station.

Homemakers who buy their berries at the market or must keep berries for several days at home after picking may be reassured to know that the berries showed almost no loss of vitamin C during two days of standing at room temperature. Berries kept as long as five days in the hydrator of a home refrigerator showed practically no loss of the vitamin.

However, the way berries are washed may make a difference in their vitamin C loss, Mrs. Fleetham points out. The scientists recommend washing before hulling. Removing the hulls exposes inner tissue, and vitamin C from this tissue can dissolve in the washing water. Soaking in water for any length of time also may draw out some of the vitamin.

The usual method of slicing the berries and allowing them to stand with or without sugar for a short time before serving destroys little if any of the vitamin. However, tests indicated that crushing or mashing berries for shortcake causes a loss of the vitamin.

In 7th, But Lose

A long single to left field by "Johnny" Dick gave the Voltz-Texaco team their ninth victory in the Trenton Industrial League last evening on Leedom's field. Final score was Voltz, 6; Prison Officers, 5.

Dick's single, coming in the last half of the sixth, scored George Ritter from first base. Ritter did some very fast base-stepping to cross the plate on the blow but he was off at the crack of the bat and made it without trouble.

The Trenton team staged a last ditch rally in the seventh but the winning marker was tagged out at the plate. Punari opened the frame by walking. Pugliese also waited for four bad ones. Perry hit to Dick who threw to third in an attempt to get Punari. The throw was wild and Punari scored and when Pugliese also attempted to count, VanLenten got him at the plate on a close play.

"Eddie" Sullivan started on the hill for the Voltz-men and after pitching four scoreless innings retired in favor of Dick. The Officers used three hurlers. Fred Burkley started and gave way to Bob Stout in the fourth. McQuire also relieved Stout in the fourth when the Voltz batters scored a quartet of tallies.

DIETCH JUST MISSES
A NO-HIT, NO-RUN GAME

CROYDON, June 21—"Mike" Dietch narrowly missed a no-run, no-hit game last evening in a Bristol Youth League contest, as the Croydon A. C. team blanked the Bristol Township High School nine, 4-0.

A single by Harry Morrell in the first frame was the only hit off Dietch as he struck out nine batters and hit another. He did not walk a batter.

The victory enabled the A. C. nine to move into a deadlock with Croydon Y. M. A. for second place.

FINE HITS HOMER AND WINS FOR FLEETWINGS

TRENTON, June 21—Topped by a home run by "Bill" Fine, the Fleetwings Arrows won their fifth game in their last seven starts last evening by defeating the Eastern Aircraft nine, 7-2, on Wetzel field, in a Trenton Industrial League game.

Fine's four-bagger came with one runner on base in the seventh inning. In this frame, the Arrows managed to shove five runs across the plate. Clotti started the doings by hitting safely with one gone. Tosti was the second out of the inning. Lyczak drew a pass and both advanced on a passed ball. Barbetta was safe on an error and two runs crossed.

Fine connected with a Rubino pitch and sent it into deep left for a homer, scoring Barbetta ahead of him. Welsh walked and went to third on Luken's hit. Dooley walked to fill the bags, and up for the second time Clotti singled again to score Welsh with the fifth run. The fine fielding of Tom Dooley at third base was outstanding for the Arrows. Tom handled the chances nicely without a flaw. In left field, Joe Luken had a busy evening as he chased and caught six long flies.

"Cy" Bachman had good control as he held the Trenton team to eight blows, three of which went to Gingoe.

CROYDON Y. M. A. WINS
OVER HARRIMAN NINE

In a game transferred to the township high school field because of the condition of the Croydon diamond, the Croydon Y. M. A. team beat the Harriman team, 3-2, last evening in a Bristol Youth League contest.

An overthrow by Keyes in the seventh inning gave the Croydonites the triumph. Keyes attempted to get Barbetta going into third base but tossed wild and the runner scored with the winning run.

Earl Wagner tossed them for the winners while Frank Murphy did the pitching for the sixth ward club. Both hurled good ball.

COONEY ON THE HILL

Bowman Led the 11-Run Attack of The "Badies"

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, June 21—"Jimmy" Cooney held the Schutte-Koerting team to three hits last evening on the Echo Beach diamond as the Badenhausen continued their winning way in the Bristol Suburban League. The Schutte team was on the short end of a 11-2 score.

Leading the 11-run attack of the Badies was Freeman Bowman who connected for three hits in four trips to the plate. The winners had but seven hits and John Kennedy, the Schutte-Koerting hurler, deserved a better fate as his mates played loose ball behind his fine pitching.

It was the seventh straight loss for the Schutte-Koerting nine.
